

The men and women involved in law enforcement face some of the most significant challenges imaginable during the course of their careers.

Therefore, it is paramount that these dedicated professionals have available to them the very best in protective equipment.

The Law Enforcement Protection Program enables the Kentucky Office of Homeland Security to provide grant funds for these vital items to law enforcement agencies throughout the Commonwealth.

Funding for the Law Enforcement Protection Program is derived from the sale of confiscated firearms by the Kentucky State Police sold at public auction to federally licensed firearms dealers. KRS 16.220
